

THESE ARE THE BEST CRUISES OUT OF

CHARLESTON, SOUTH CAROLINA

Did you know that you can set sail out of South Carolina? Charleston's coastal location, combined with its rich and vibrant history, makes for the perfect beginning to a southern-bound cruise. In fact, there are a plethora of different cruise options departing from Charleston, with destinations in the Bahamas, Caribbean, and United States.

CHARLESTON TO FREEPORT & NASSAU

The first cruise on the list is a five-day round trip on the Carnival Sunshine, stopping in the cities of Freeport and Nassau in the Bahamas. This is an excellent option for a quick and affordable trip that can fit into any schedule.

CHARLESTON TO PRINCESS CAYS

This Bahamas route is a bit shorter than the first cruise, clocking in at four days instead of five, with only one destination. Passengers will once again board the Carnival Sunshine. But this time, they will travel to Princess Cays to spend an entire day before returning back to Charleston. Unlike the cruise to Freeport and Nassau, only one day is spent at the destination.

CHARLESTON TO EASTERN CARIBBEAN

Combine the best of both worlds with this cruise, stopping in both the Bahamas and the Caribbean. Like the first two cruises, shore excursions are available at each of the destinations. Guests can enjoy an adrenaline rush wading through waterfalls in Amber Cove, paddleboarding in Grand Turk, and touring a lagoon in Half Moon Cay.

CHARLESTON TO THE CARIBBEAN IN LUXURY

For a luxurious, all-inclusive trip, check out the Crystal Cruises twelve-night trip through the Caribbean. Named "Best Cruise Line" in Travel & Leisure Magazine, this company certainly isn't messing around. Michelin-inspired dining and an onboard dress code are sure to wow passengers at every step.

CHARLESTON THROUGH THE HISTORIC SOUTH

Want a trip that stays closer to home? American Cruise Line offers an eight-day trip through the Intracoastal Waterway for a journey back in time. Guests will embark on the intimately sized American Star, with a total guest capacity of 100 people.

CHARLESTON TO BALTIMORE

Travel through the Mid-Atlantic Inside Passage with American Cruise Line on an eight-day trip to Baltimore, Maryland. Similar to the tour of the Historic South, passengers can explore everything the northeast has to offer.

CHARLESTON TO SOUTHERN CARIBBEAN

While the specific activities available depend on the destination, the majority of Caribbean shore excursions include some type of water activity like sailing or snorkeling. A full list of these excursions can be viewed on the Carnival Cruise Line's website.
